Complementary Medicines Sector Honours Industry Veteran

Complementary Medicines Australia (CMA) recently welcomed over 400 delegates and guests to Sydney for the 2018 National Conference and Industry Awards, where industry leader, Henry Osiecki, was the highly-deserving recipient of the Lady Cilento Award for a lifetime of achievement and contribution to the complementary medicines sector.

CMA chief executive, Mr Carl Gibson, said, “The Lady Cilento is the industry’s most prestigious award, recognising an industry leader who has made an outstanding and consistent contribution to the industry and the wider community.”

“A pioneering contributor to the field of nutritional medicine, and now an internationally recognised leader in the nutritional field, for many years Henry Osiecki has made a significant contribution to the education of healthcare practitioners.”

“Henry has had a long career as a university lecturer, his books are used as part of the curriculum for nutrition courses in Australia and New Zealand, he is widely published in scientific and other journals on nutritional topics, he has written numerous teaching courses, and in 2013, he launched an industry-first online learning portal for practitioners.”

“Henry Osiecki is truly a well-deserving recipient of the Lady Cilento Award.”

Mr Gibson also noted the importance of the Awards to Industry as providing an opportunity to recognise and celebrate the outstanding contributions made by both individuals and companies.

“The CMA Industry Awards are a celebration of excellence, and a chance to recognise the commitment, integrity and contributions of our members to the complementary medicines industry and, ultimately, to consumers and consumer health.”
